stunning sight for our guesthouse awaits; endless plains with the eternal snowcapped Caucasian mountains behind them.

Day 2: We leave Kakheti and move towards Kazbegi. The diversity of Georgia will reveal itself perfectly during this ride. From dessert like areas through long green fields with forests around them we end up in Kazbegi. A mountainous region with peaks up to 5000 meter high. Views on this ride are just stunning. Mountain passes go up and down as they take you from corner to corner, heaven for any motorcycle enthusiast. Our accommodation offers the same views over Mt. Kazbeg to enjoy the spectacular views of the famous Gergeti church surrounded by the Caucasus mountain range.

Day 3: With a circling move we head down South. From Kazbegi we ride back over the famous Georgian Military Highway. Through the most beautiful roads crossing the National park we head west, windy roads with hairpins and amazing scenery. The small bypass road connecting the old capital of Georgia called Mtskheta with Gori, mostly famous for given birth to Joseph Stalin. For those interested we will pay a visit to the museum that gives an unusual account of his life as the leader of the Soviet Union. Gori has also been the theatre for another historical event, the Russian invasion of 2008. At request our hosts will give an intriguing yet interesting account of that.

Day 4: Further on down the road we ride to Racha. A mystical region that has been undiscovered by foreign tourists. Often it is compared to Switzerland cause of its serene calmness and the impressive mountains surrounding the area. You'll notice the differences with the mountains in Kazbegi, both have their unique shape and look. Beautiful windy roads get us up to Oni, an idyllic village. Where we stay for the night at Temur's guesthouse. He builds and makes almost everything you see at his guesthouse himself, this includes the skinned bear and wolf skins. His wife will prepares the most delicious specialties from Racha for us. As Stalin's favorite wine comes from this region we shouldn't leave the chance to see what his taste was like. Eat freshly smoked ham, distil you own chacha and bake your own bread in the Georgian "tone".

Day 5: With a swirling move we head out of Oni. After heading Weswards in this region, we move to the South. The curvy roads through Racha are a Valhalla for any motorcycle enthusiast. The relaxed vibe and empty roads make it a perfect place for motorcycle riding. Leaving Racha we have to opportunity to visit the famous Prometheus caves, the biggest cave complex of Europa, an immensely old complex with astonishing sights. From Prometheus we end up in Kutaisi, Georgia's second biggest city.

Day 6: From Kutaisi we move southwards towards Vardzia. The region is not only famous for its beautiful nature but also because of the numerous immense cultural and historical treasures that it houses. One of the most special ones being the secret monastery build in the 12th century into the rocks of which the front collapsed during an earthquake. The roads here are twisting around rivers, cliffs and castles. The region had a history of mixed ethnicities and religions co-existing peacefully, and this still remains.
